Ecological Problems and Livelihoods in a Changing World Marinus J.A. Werger, Marja A. van Staalduinen, 2012-06-14 Steppes form one of the largest biomes Drastic changes in steppe ecology land use and livelihoods came with the emergence and again with the collapse of communist states Excessive ploughing and vast influx of people into the steppe zone led to a strong decline in nomadic pastoralism in the Soviet Union and China and in severely degraded steppe ecosystems In Mongolia nomadic pastoralism persisted but steppes degraded because of strongly increased livestock loads After the Soviet collapse steppes regenerated on huge tracts of fallow land Presently new restorative steppe land management schemes are applied On top of all these changes come strong effects of climate change in the northern part of the steppe zone This book gives an up to date overview of changes in ecology climate and use of the entire Eurasian steppe area and their effects on livelihoods of steppe people It integrates knowledge that so far was available only in a spectrum of locally used languages
