Environmental Conflict And The Media Global Crises And The Media:

Environmental Conflict and the Media Libby Lester, Brett Hutchins, 2013 Using a range of related disciplinary perspectives the global contributors to this book analyze and explain the complicated relationship between environmental conflict and the media The book demonstrates how conflicts emanate from and flow across multiple sites regions and media platforms and examines the role of the media in helping to structure collective discussion debate and decision making

Risk Journalism between Transnational Politics and Climate Change Ingrid Volkmer, Kasim Sharif, 2018-04-06 This book introduces a new methodology to assess the way in which journalists today operate within a new sphere of communicative public interdependence across global digital communities by focusing on climate change debates The authors propose a framework of cosmopolitan loops which addresses three major transformations in journalistic practice the availability of fluid webs of data which situate journalistic practice in a transnational arena the increased involvement of journalists from developing countries in a transnationally interdependent sphere and the increased awareness of a larger interconnected globalized risk dimension of even local issues which shapes a new sphere of news horizons The authors draw on interviews with journalists to demonstrate that the construction of climate change issues is increasingly situated in an emerging dimension of journalistic interconnectivity with climate actors across local global and digital arenas and through physical and digital spaces of flows

Insights on Peace and Conflict Reporting Kristin Skare Orgeret, 2021-07-26 As the second book in the Routledge Journalism Insights series this edited collection explores the possibilities and challenges involved in contemporary reporting of peace and conflict Featuring 16 expert contributing authors the collection maps the field of peace and conflict reporting in a digital world in a context where the financial prospects of the news industry are challenged and professional authority credibility and autonomy are decaying The contributors ranging from prominent scholars to the Head of Newsgathering at the BBC discuss a diverse range of key case studies including the role of Bellingcat in conflict journalism war and peace journalism in Bangladesh visual storytelling in conflict zones and rampant cyber misogyny confronting women journalists in Finland India the Philippines and South Africa Bringing together theory and practice the collection offers an in depth examination of the changes taking place in the working practices of journalists as ongoing strategic assaults against them increase Insights on Peace and Conflict Reporting is a powerful resource for students and academics in the fields of global journalism foreign news reporting conflict reporting globalisation media and international communication

Global Crisis Reporting Cottle, Simon, 2008-11-01 From climate change to the global war on terror from forced migration to humanitarian disasters these are just some of the global crises addressed in this accessible ground breaking book For the first time the author examines how why and to what extent these are diverse threats to humanity conveyed in today's news media

Journalism and Climate Crisis Robert A. Hackett, Susan Forde, Shane Gunster, Kerrie Foxwell-Norton, 2017-02-17 Journalism and Climate Crisis Public Engagement Media Alternatives recognizes that climate change is more than an environmental crisis It is also a question of political and communicative capacity This book enquires into which approaches to journalism as a particularly important form of public communication can best enable humanity to productively address climate crisis The book combines selective overviews of previous research normative enquiry what should journalism be doing and original empirical case studies of environmental communication and media coverage in Australia and Canada Bringing together perspectives from the fields of environmental communication and journalism studies the authors argue for forms of journalism that can encourage public engagement and mobilization to challenge the powerful interests vested in a high carbon economy facilitative and radical roles particularly well suited to alternative media and alternative journalism Ultimately the book argues for a fundamental rethinking of relationships between journalism publics democracy and climate crisis This book will interest researchers students and activists in environmental politics social movements and the media
