Explaining Why You Lost Antonio Crivellaro, Mérida N. Hodgson, 2020-11-20 Generally speaking the losing party is more interested than the winning party in understanding the reasons for the outcome of the proceeding And yet the requirement that unless otherwise agreed by the parties the award shall state the reasons upon which it is based is a widely recognized principle in international arbitration The rules of most arbitral institutions also require that an award include reasons This Institute Dossier addresses reasoning in International Commercial and Investment Arbitration Awards Should an arbitrator state his reasons Why How extensive and or complete must the reasoning be for the process to be fully comprehensible and thus legitimate to the parties What may be the consequences of an unsatisfactory reasoning Readers will get useful insights into the legal reasoning process by accessing data from a recent large scale empirical study of legal reasoning in commercial disputes They will also be treated to some creative writing tips in the hope that reading an award becomes a more interesting part of the job The ICC Institute of World Business Law brings together the finest legal minds to strengthen links between international business practitioners and the legal profession The Institute Dossiers is a series that has gained international prestige These Dossiers are the outcome of the Institute s annual meetings where experts from around the globe come together to discuss salient issues of international commercial law and arbitration An ICC Services publication distributed by Kluwer Law International The New Volumes of the Encyclopædia Britannica ,1902

Propaganda, War Crimes Trials and International Law Predrag Dojcinovic, 2013-03-01 First Published in 2012

Propaganda War Crimes Trials and International Law addresses the emerging jurisprudence and international law concerning propaganda in war crimes investigations and trials. The role of propaganda in the perpetration of atrocities has emerged as a central theme in the war crimes trials in the past century. The Nuremberg trials initially and the International Criminal Tribunal for the former Yugoslavia and the International Criminal Tribunal for Rwanda currently have all substantially contributed to the development of international law in this respect. Investigating and exploring the areas between lawful and unlawful propaganda, they have dealt with specific mechanisms and consequences of the phenomenon within the perspective and framework of their international legal mandates. But the cultural codes and argots through which propaganda operates have vexed international courts struggling to assign responsibility to the instigators of mass crimes as subtle but potentially fatal communications often remain undetected, misinterpreted or even dismissed as entirely irrelevant. With contributions from leading international scholars and legal practitioners, Propaganda War Crimes Trials and International Law pursues a comparative approach to this problem, providing an overview of the current state of the theory of propaganda in the social sciences, exploring this theory in the legal analysis of war crimes and related proceedings, and finally offering a study of the prosecution of propaganda-related crimes in international law and the newly emerging jurisprudence of war crimes propaganda cases. "The" English Catalogue of Books, 1897 The World as Will and Idea Arthur
